

Semester

A semester is a half a school year. The high schools are based in semesters. That means you will go from August to December until you get your first report card. Then, second semester will run from January until June when you will get your second report card.

One semester equals two middle-school quarters.